I am an exhibiting Fine artist/Illustrator based in Bristol. I graduated from The Falmouth School of Art in 2004 with a first class (BA Hons) degree in Illustration. Since leaving I found myself naturally gravitating toward the fine art market; preferring the greater creative freedom enjoyed in terms of style and subject matter. The degree- (which I concentrated mostly on book illustration) did however help give structure to a love for working directly from my imagination and gave my art its narrative quality. It also encouraged a passion for drawing, which is at the core of all my work.

My Fine Art work has been extensively exhibited in galleries in Bristol, London, Yorkshire as well as San Francisco. I am currently represented by Antlers Gallery (UK) which is a gallery nomadic by design, Bristol based but with no fixed location, they represent emerging artists through temporary exhibitions, art fairs and an online shop. My work 'Faustus' illustrated the front cover of surreal horror writer (winner of the 2011 Emergency Press Award NYC) Nicholaus Patnaude's novel First Aide Medicine published by Emergency Press. New York. 2013

ANIMA MUNDI: Artists' Book Project

Here is a link to a now successfully completed kickstarter campaign myself and Antlers Gallery ran in 2014 in order to print 200 copies of my artists' book project: 'Anima Mundi'.

I'm proud to say Anima Mundi is now part of The British Library Artists' Book Collection and has recently been bought by other international collections such as Brighton University and University of Chicago's Art Faculty.
